

Protecting Your Business Now and in the Future: Risk Advisory Solutions

Backed by decades of experience securing our Nation's most critical assets, our Risk Advisory solutions help to provide our cleared customers the where and when of future business threats. Our goal is to protect national security and your bottom line with evidence-based research, reporting, and mitigation techniques.

Physical Security Risk Assessments

All organizations face some degree of physical threat and those with multiple facilities often struggle to standardize and optimize physical security efforts enterprise-wide. We assess the current and potential threats and vulnerabilities in your physical security program, provide a detailed gap analysis and recommended mitigation steps.

Crime Risk Index Reports & Dashboards

Crime statistics and other information specific to your geographic area should play an important role in security deployment decision-making. We use comprehensive local and national data sources to provide timely and accurate insights into crime levels and trends, allowing you to assess security program needs, make sound investment decisions, and manage premises liability risk.

Security Program Design & Evaluation

A security program, at its core, is about risk management – identifying, quantifying, and mitigating risks to assets. We apply an iterative, analytical approach to risk management to help you design a robust security program and develop evaluation metrics to ensure continued success.

Security Training & Exercises

Successful security programs require consistent training and evaluation. We offer a wide range of options through our accredited training academy, National Protective Services Institute (NaPSI), to provide your personnel with the knowledge, skills, and abilities to perform key security tasks reliably and effectively.
